[17-18] 다음 글을 읽고, 물음에 답하시오.

Danwon Kim Hongdo was one of the artists who helped bring about the maturation of genre painting. (①) As a court painter, he was favored by King Yeongjo and King Jeongjo because of his extraordinary talent. (②) He painted Jeongjo's portraits several times and often painted important events held in the court. Although he was also skilled at painting landscapes, portraits, flowers, and animals, the works for which he is best known today are the genre paintings in Danwon Pungsokdo Cheop (Album of Genre Paintings by Danwon). (③)

The works in this album are noteworthy for their focus on people and their activities, with all background details completely removed. (④) On a blank background, the artist skillfully arranged people doing various activities. It created a sense of space and depth that makes viewers feel as if they were part of the scene. What makes his paintings even more impressive is the humor and liveliness of the scenes, as well as their narrative power. (⑤) Danwon paid close attention to each individual, so that their expression-filled faces invite the viewer into the scene.
